

GOLF TUITION PRICE LIST

Ethan Payne – PGA Professional

I am dedicated to bringing the enjoyment back to your golf by using a myriad of coaching methods alongside state-of-the-art coaching facilities, helping you overcome any challenges you may face in your game.

The focus is on you, the student – I firmly believe there is no single correct way to swing. Instead, there are countless ways to correctly deliver the club to the ball.

Additionally, I understand that golf does not begin and end with the swing. I take a holistic approach to coaching, helping you not only 'hit it' like a better-handicap golfer but also strategise and develop the mindset of a better player.

Numbers don't lie, which is why I rely on stats-backed research to identify the biggest outliers in your game. By targeting the low-hanging fruit, I can quickly help you improve and elevate your performance.

A simple lesson is often the best lesson. I aim to ensure you leave every session feeling confident and clear about the changes being made. If you're struggling with any aspect of the lesson, I am always on hand to discuss the challenges and find a solution that works for you.

I am actively working to dispel the myth that "It will get worse before it gets better after a lesson." This outdated idea reflects poor coaching – my approach ensures progress feels positive and achievable.

I offer both hourly rates and discounted block packages, which are also available as vouchers – a fantastic present for the golfer in your life. As 18-time Major Winner Jack Nicklaus said: "Don't be afraid to have a lesson, I'm not."
